AN EXHIBITION OF OREHEK'S

Lights 'n Giggles is a one of a kind art experience showcasing not only the creativity of this Long Island native Uncle-Nephew pair, but also a delightful dichotomy of artistic styles, generational ideals, and social commentary.

Visitors can prepare to have loads of fun with the art on display in each gallery. Clayton uses everyday household items in innovative ways and lets us play with magneto cranks to light up neon and a socially distanced bicycle built for two. Don's originals give rare insight into the publishing process with iterations and editor notes from magazines like Playboy and Saturday Evening Post...not to mention the perfect injection of vintage humor.

TEACHER SPOTLIGHT: MARTA BAUMILLER

Passionate artist and teacher sharing her creativity with the community!

Always ready to share her love of creativity with her community, Marta is a wonderful addition to the East End Arts faculty. Originally from Poland and trained as a sculptor, she has been a costume maker, milliner, fashion and lighting designer, and educator. She creates artworks across many media with a focus on project-based installations. Her interest lies in merging the functional object with process, form, and politics. Marta lives and creates her work in a renovated barn on the North Fork of Long Island, surrounded and inspired by nature.

"I encourage students to try new experiments, search for their own paths and artistic solutions. So that they can give free rein to their imaginations, act at their own pace, making independent choices. I have a great interest in technique, skill, and materials but our common search becomes more important than the particular effect of any workshop. As a practicing artist, I am inspired to find radical, innovative ways of sharing my knowledge with students. Although art may at times not seem the most urgent need, it plays a critical role in giving form to our inner experiences, bringing us in contact with something bigger, more beautiful and bringing us hope."

Check out some of Marta's classes: Homeschool & After School Art; May, Intro to Printmaking - Linocut; and June, Begining Drawing Learning to Look Closely.

Thank! You!

For your generous donations that improve our music programs!

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT: ZOFIA GEIGER

A Blooming Frida

Zofia Geiger is a creative, young art student who began her art journey at an early age. She is always attentive to details and good with translating those details on paper. Like her favorite artist, Frida Kahlo, Zofia loves to paint self-portraits and portraits of others. She also loves to dance, swim and experiment with science projects. The children's art classes at East End Arts Art & Music School help her to grow as an artist and hone her skills in different mediums. She enjoys her After School Art class with teacher Marta Baumiller most of all. We look forward to seeing her creations!

ARTIST SPOTLIGHT: CLAYTON OREHEK

THE ART OF CRAFTSMANSHIP

Riverhead local Clayton Orehek has been specializing in neon and metal craftwork both artistically and commercially for over thirty years. His notable pieces include the 'Sag Harbor' Cinema sign (2005, 2017), 'Neon Butterfly Chairs' as seen in the Illuminators show (OK Harris Gallery, New York City, 2013), 'Nikola Tesla' as seen in the Energy: The Power of Art show (Nassau Museum of Art, 2019), and several public art installations in Grangebel Park (Riverhead, 2018-present). Clayton's work is inspired by shape, time, and light, with craftsmanship being paramount in his artistic expression. "I believe in being a virtuoso in a craft before I can be fully expressive," says Clayton, "It's the only way abstract ideas can be engineered into universal pieces."

50 YEARS OF EEA: A TRIP DOWN MEMORY LANE

SPRING 2011: THE FIRST MUSIC MASTERS PROGRAM COMMENCES

The first EEA Music Masters initiative was led by Corky Laing, drummer and songwriter from Mountain and West, Bruce & Laing, in 2011. Corky coached and rehearsed with the group of youth musicians on a weekly basis, preparing them for two public performances at local festivals. He even co-produced their CD recording session. Needless to say, it was a great success and launched a special mentorship program that is now in its tenth year. EEA has been honored by the participation of many Masters, and thanks to the continued sponsorship of the Fischer's, EEA is able to offer this six week intensive program to local students at no cost. Each program ends with a public performance, like this year's on April 8, 2022 at Hotel Indigo.
